DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 9-26 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With regard to claims 9-12, German Patent Application Publication DE 100 57 862 C1 discloses a plasma particulate filter (50) comprising a mesh of ceramic filter material having a first set of walls (1) extending in a first direction and a second set of walls (1) extending in a second direction, the first set of walls intersecting the second set of walls to form substantially parallel inlet and outlet passages (11), the inlet and outlet passages being closed (by plugs 2) at alternate ends of the mesh, each passage having a cross-section with four corners defined by intersections of the first and second set of walls, and four active electrodes (3) provided for each inlet passage to oxidize particulates deposited within the inlet passages on the filter material within the inlet passage, the electrodes being formed at intersections of the first and second sets of walls such that for each inlet passage, an electrode is provided each of the four diagonally opposing corners, the electrodes having opposite polarities in Figs. 1-12.

The prior art made of record does not teach or fairly suggest the plasma particulate filter of claim 9 comprising precisely two active electrodes for each inlet passage, the electrodes being formed at intersections of the first and second sets of walls such that for each inlet passage, an electrode is provided each of two diagonally opposing corners, the electrodes having opposite polarities, and each electrodes serving two inlet passages.

With regard to claims 13-26, German Patent Application Publication DE 100 57 862 C1 discloses a plasma particulate filter (50) based on a wall flow filter comprising elongated inlet and outlet passages 911) which are closed (plugs 2) on alternate sides and which are made from ceramic filter material such that particulates are deposited on surfaces of the filter material within the inlet passages, the passages each having a cross-section with two line symmetry, and four electrodes of different polarities, lying on lines of symmetry, per inlet passage, the electrodes regenerating by filter by oxidizing the particulates through dielectric barrier sliding surface discharge in Figs. 1-12.

The prior art made of record does not teach or fairly suggest the plasma particulate filter of claim 13 comprising precisely two electrodes of different polarity, lying on one of the lines of symmetry, per inlet passage.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Manfre et al., Garner et al., Peters et al., Wang et al., Pischinger et al., JP 2004-340049, JP 2001-276561 and FR 2 842 389 references disclose similar particulate filters.
